

SHIPYARDS' STRIKE NOT FEARED HERE

Belief is prevalent among local shipyards that the labor troubles which are threatening Eastern shipbuilding industries, and which have been fanned into an actual strike in New York, will not touch coast plants except in a minor way. This hope is based on a tacit agreement between labor heads of the coast and construction plants not to let operations without at least some preliminary opportunity for arbitration.

Labor leaders in charge of the strike at the New York shipyards announced today, according to dispatches received, that 250,000 metal workers in various parts of the country would be asked to declare a sympathetic strike unless some immediate settlement is reached. According to those in charge, the present plan includes taking out men at Seattle, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Elizabeth and Norfolk.

The situation is deadlocked over the establishment of a minimum wage rate. Employers and strikers have held several conferences at which the matter has been threshed out without arriving at any agreement. At a meeting to be held tomorrow, which is to be attended by officials of the machinists, blacksmiths, boiler makers and pattern makers and all other international unions involved, final determination of the problem is to be sought. If there are no peace developments, statements are made that the sympathetic strike will be called.

Stupendous Task to Move Army Rail Experts Solve Problem

Transportation of over a million soldiers—the largest troop movement in the history of the country—is the problem which is being worked out by railroad traffic managers for accomplishment during the month of September. Altogether 637,000 men will have to be carried to the various cantonments for training and 334,000 National Guardsmen assembled at their camps. The herculean task will require rearrangement of all passenger and freight schedules at a time when an extra demand will be made for freight cars and trains in the shipment of the grain and food products.

Details of the plan in the Western Department are in charge of C. J. McDonald, assistant superintendent of transportation for the Southern Pacific.

"The movement of troops will begin about September 1," he said today, in discussing the situation. "Between that date and September 15, the railroads will complete the entrainment of 200,000 men, or about 20 per cent of the total number to be moved. It is expected that a second movement of another 200,000 will begin on September 15, and continue for four days, and a third movement of the same size will start on October 2."

HEAVY CAR DEMAND.

"For the movement of only one field army of 100,000 men, it will be required 623 cars, made up into 368 trains, with as many locomotives and crews. This gives an idea of the task confronting the railroads in the making out of schedules that will guarantee the safe and prompt transportation of these great numbers. Shippers and receivers of freight have been asked to co-operate in every way that will assist the railroads."

The railroads are facing the heaviest demand for freight cars that has ever been known. The Seattle committee on car service of the American Railway Association has made a special appeal to shippers and receivers of freight, asking that everything be done to keep cars moving and to eliminate delays in loading and unloading.

"Lumber shipments to the cantonments and shipyards," said J. H. O'Neill, chairman of the committee and general superintendent of the Great Northern Railway, "has monopolized more than 100,000 cars and raises serious inroads into the supply that normally would move crops and food products. Grain and food shipments are going to be unusually heavy this fall, and at the same time the immense army of recruits is to be carried to the training camps."

The following are some of the specific things that can be done to lighten the burden:

"Unload promptly all loaded cars. Load promptly all outgoing cars and release them at once. Do not delay freight before its arrival."

"Do not order special types of cars when ordinary ones will do."

"Eliminate the use of railway equipment when tonnage can be handled by motor trucks or wagons."

"Load cars to their full capacity."

JESSICA NAHL TO JOIN MILLS STAFF

Jessica Davis Nahl, society favorite and amateur thespian, is to join the teaching staff of Mills college. With the opening of the fall term on September 4, Mrs. Nahl, whose talents have kept her busy in charity performances, will take up the work of instructor in spoken English. She will assist Mrs. Marian L. Stebbins, who has been occupying the position of instructor in spoken English during the past year.

Mrs. Nahl is a member of the Frolickers, an organization of Berkeley society girls who have staged several creditable performances for charitable causes. She is a graduate of the University of California and during the past two years has been devoting much time to the study of her special work. Mrs. Nahl spent several months in New York and Boston recently.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Andrew M. Davis, and is identified with a number of local and national organizations. The Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of the Confederacy, the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, among others.

John A. Larsen, formerly assistant in physiology at the University of California, has been added to the faculty of Mills college and with the remaining of class room work will direct physiology courses there.

TO OPEN DORMITORY.

Warren Olney Hall, the new dormitory for students at Mills college is to be opened for the inspection of college friends on Saturday, September 1. During the fortnight remaining before the first of September the furnishings of the new building will be installed.

The hall is the most perfectly planned standard for college residence buildings. It is named for Warren Olney, who for thirty-three years has been a member of the Mills college board of trustees and who is now the secretary of that body.

Members of the board of trustees, faculty members and alumnae of the college will assist President Reinhardt in receiving the guests who are to inspect the building.

APPLICATIONS MORE.

As evidence of the need for the new dormitory the college finds itself in receipt of thirty-three and a third per cent more applications for registration than were recorded at any time last year. The inability to receive more students until the new hall was erected caused the rush order for the dormitory, which will permit of 100 more than were enrolled for residence last year.

An increase of more than 100 per cent in freshman registration is being reported by the registrar's office at Mills college. The incoming class being more than doubled already, before the time for formal registration.

OAKLAND IS FIFTH IN HEALTH REPORT

Containing a wealth of information relating to public sanitation and health in California, the state board of health monthly bulletin for August has been distributed among its thousands of free subscribers. In addition to various reports from divisional bodies of the state, the bulletin contains a number of articles on vital community health problems.

One of the significant paragraphs in the forty-five pages of information is the table showing the decrease by number of tuberculosis deaths in five leading California cities. The death rate per 100,000 population for 1915 finds Oakland fifth among leading state municipalities, with a total of 123.4. In 1900, seventeen years ago, it was fourth, with an average of 227 victims.

Los Angeles led the cities in 1900, with 391.3 deaths for every 100,000 population and was second in 1915 with a reduced list of 200.1. San Francisco held second place in the beginning, but retired to third place two years ago, with a reduced fatality rate from 320.1 to 197.1 for every 100,000. Sacramento, third highest in 1900 with a total of 338.1 tubercular fatalities, jumped into first place two years ago with a reduced toll of 209.8—just 2.7 greater than Los Angeles. Fresno, fifth in 1900, with 208.5 deaths jumped into Oakland's place during the expiation year with 184.5.

CONTROL IS TIGHTENED.

The state board of health, in the bulletin, expresses the strong conviction that additional and intensive work of control will further reduce tuberculosis death lists. It gives credit to improved living conditions among the mass of the people.

But nineteen cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the board during the first six months of 1917, according to one important paragraph in the bulletin. The season at which the disease is most prevalent had just commenced, sav health officers, but they are optimistic as to future outbreaks.

The war and certain communicable diseases come in for condensed though able report. Suppression of diseases of immorality is the hope expressed editorially and in reports. Automobile camping grounds, owned by California municipalities, are described in the bulletin and praised from a health standpoint. A report by Surgeon C. L. Williams, plague suppression official, tells of finding plague-infected ground squirrels in this and other counties.

REPORTS ISSUED.

Various reports are appended, including June deaths from various diseases; the work of the board's laboratory at Berkeley; county vital statistics and city births and deaths. Next to Los Angeles and San Francisco counties, Alameda county leads in the number of births and mortalities. Next to Los Angeles and San Francisco, Oakland leads all other cities in the number of June births and deaths.

Sanitation reports and a lengthy account of the work done by the bureau of foods and drugs are contained in the volume.

OAKLAND STRIKE NOT PROBABLE

Possibility of further labor troubles in the affairs of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway, is declared to be remote today by officials of the company. General committees from both the company and the carmen's union organizations, are meeting in an effort to select the members of the arbitration board of three who are to arrange wage and hour schedules upon a basis satisfactory to both sides.

That this part of the problem confronting the two interests may not be solved within the next week, was strongly intimated today. The selection of the third member of the arbitration board is the most difficult portion of the board's work. Efforts are being made to secure a representative citizen who is unaligned with either side of the controversy and yet who is sufficiently well known to represent a stable influence in the community.

The joint conferences of the two committees have been under way for more than a week now. As soon as the third member is chosen the board will settle down to the task of working out a permanent program to meet future conditions.

STATION 'B' IS IN NEW QUARTERS

Housed in a new location and provided with up-to-date equipment for public service, station B of the Oakland postoffice has its doors this morning for business at East Twelfth street and Twelfth avenue. The new quarters are half again as large as the quarters occupied for the last ten years by the station and the facilities for the transaction of postal business for that district have been greatly increased.

Station B is one of the most important sub-stations in the Oakland division. Fourteen carriers serve out of this station and the greater part of the mail business of East Oakland and Fruitvale is transacted through this office. Realizing that the residents of that section of the city would appreciate an improvement in the quarters of the office, Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough decided to change the location to more commodious quarters. The present location is under lease for ten years. Eugene Colby is in charge of the station.

EXPERTS PLAN TRAFFIC SYSTEM FOR NEW ARMY

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Plans for the most important troop movement ever attempted in the country, involving the transportation of 637,000 men, are being perfected by the American Railway Association at the request of the Federal government, according to Patrick Harrison, chairman of the railroad's war board.

"Some conception of the task which confronts the association in the preparation of schedules that will assure the prompt movement of these troops without interference with regular traffic may be gleaned from the fact that 623 cars, made up in 368 trains with as many locomotives and train crews, are required to move one field army of 80,000," said Harrison.

DAVIE RECALL PETITIONS SIGNED

Forty-two verification deputies are securing signatures for the recall of Mayor John L. Davis, according to the records of the city clerk and more than 3000 names have been secured in the few days that petitions have been circulated, according to the statement of Attorney Henry E. Skinner, who is in charge of the campaign.

"Securing signatures is becoming easier each day," said Skinner today. "On Saturday one single deputy secured 190 and 180 signatures. The second day he secured the headquarters in the MacDonald building asking that deputies be sent out to secure their signatures."

"The agents of George Kaufman and Mayor Davie have approached every deputy in the city and have tried to stop them by intimidation and offers of reward, but they have met with no success, as each deputy has his heart in the work."

"Offers to bet large sums of money that the three deputies were working have come to me indirectly from Preston Higgins, secretary to Davie. I have no money of my own to meet any such bets and am not in this campaign for personal gain. Under 1900 penalties I have tried to get the money but have been open to inspection. ACCUSE BUTCHERS OF CATTLE THEFTS

Sheriff Frank Barnet announced this morning his belief that the mystery which has surrounded the disappearance of many head of cattle, sheep and hogs from the neighborhood of Pleasanton, Martinez and other towns is solved in the arrest

Robertson was arrested at his home, 1224 East Fourteenth street last Friday, but it was kept secret in the belief that his accomplice could also be taken. Hallday was arrested late Saturday at his home at 5707 Genoa street.

Sheriff Barnett and Deputies Joseph Smith and Howard Lees have been working on the case with the co-operation of Constable Larkin Locke of Pleasanton for almost a year, and they expressed the belief that the arrest of Hallday and Robertson will have the effect of stopping the theft of cattle in and near this county.

According to county officials the men who have been carrying off cattle and throwing them out to the animals which they wished to commandeer during the day time, and at night would shoot and dress them and cart them away for sale.

CARPENTERS REFUSE TO GO TO CAMP

TRIBUTE BUREAU
44 EAST BAYVIEW
CAMP FREMONT, Aug. 20.—Construction work at Camp Fremont, which is being rapidly completed, has been delayed this morning when 500 carpenters, delivered of free transportation from San Francisco, refused to go to work. It is understood that the reason for the refusal of the carpenters to continue in the government's employ was due to the taking off of a special train on which no fares were charged which transported them to and from the camp.

The leaders of the carpenters assert that the cost of food is so great in the neighborhood of the camp that they are compelled to pay double prices for their food. This, combined with the large fare for the round-trip between San Francisco and Menlo Park, led to their refusal to continue with their jobs.

PREPARE FOR LIGGETT.
Preparations are being made at Camp Fremont for the arrival of Major General Hunter Liggett, present commander of the Western Department, who is expected to take charge of the cantonment on or about August 25. He will bring with him years of experience that make him especially valuable for his new assignment.

General Liggett was born March 21, 1857, in Pennsylvania, and entered the military academy in 1875. His first commission was as second lieutenant in the fifth infantry. He served on the general staff of the army from August 16, 1910, to April 6, 1912.

Lieutenant Mallin Craig, who is to be chief of staff, is 42 years old and has served in the Fourth, Sixth, Fifth, Tenth and First Cavalry consecutively. He also has been on the general staff, serving from April 14, 1910, to September 15, 1912.

MANY VISITORS.
Thousands of visitors thronged the cantonment grounds yesterday, some of them as callers upon the soldiers already encamped, but the majority as sightseers looking over the progress that is being made in the building of the barracks and warehouses. Hundreds of automobiles and parties drove over the rough roads.

The Firemen's Band of San Francisco, under Captain William M. Gill, gave an afternoon concert for the soldiers, which was followed by a reception by the Menlo Park fire department under the direction of Chief F. P. Roach and George E. Russell.

The council has announced that within a week of films a week will be provided for the entertainment of the National Guardsmen and recruits of the national army.

CLAIMS ROBBERY

Clarence Cartwright, a laborer, who was picked up at Seventh and Wood streets, early this morning by Patrolman Henry Evans, claimed that he had been beaten and robbed of $200. He was unable to relate the circumstances to the police and he is being held pending further investigation. While on his way home last night H. B. Lovejoy of 259 Twenty-fourth street was held up by a masked man at Twenty-third and Waverly streets and relieved of $65, according to his complaint to the police today.

GIVES TWO SONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Better charity and rage than that her two sons be called back from the nation's service said Mrs. Dora Thompson, 42 years old, as she applied for help at the Hall of Justice yesterday. Mrs. Thompson's wares were few as she had a home with people who could care for her, so she gave her two sons her blessing and sent them to war. Now the home where she lived has been broken up and she has no place to stay, but she refused to have one or both of her sons recalled for her protection.

"What Next?" Oliver Morosco Has Answer at Macdonough

Blanche Ring and Gay Assemblage Cavort in Lively Comedy; Score a Hit

"What Next?"
Of girls, giggles, gaiety and gorgeousness there's nothing "next." Oliver Morosco has rounded up everything in the wide, green fields of frothy dramatics and brought them to the Macdonough.

"What Next?" is a frivolous assemblage of everything that has made vaudeville successful, and musical comedy diverting. Fair femininity, sufficient to the evening thereof, and about and dance about, and sing about nothing to worry about. Comedians in great quantities jest with comedienne in like numbers and give forth hisle-and-lingerie jokes, to the great delight of tired business men and wearier housewives.

There's a story binding together the many things that go to make this Morosco holiday. "Pretty Mrs. Smith" once knew the plot as her own. Whether she'd know it now is neither here, there nor pertinent. "What Next?" could get along just as well without a plot, but the thing doesn't bother anybody. If worry there must be about it, it is up to Blanche Ring, who has more to do with it than anyone else, barring the authors and the dramatic reviewers.

HAMLETTE AT PANTAGES

If William Shakespeare himself entered Pantages this week and watched "Miss Hamlet," a travesty on his own immortal work, he'd laugh with the rest of us. Every line, action, song, dance and character is a burlesque, but in it is no sting. The Bard of Avon would howl the loudest, and the howl would be a mirthful one.

The situations are slightly changed about to suit the comedy element. The roles are modern and of the shrunken-shoulder kind. There is a chorus of Ophelias, who dress in no medieval Danish or English fashion, but in the style of the King and the vigorous Ophelia. There is Polonius and a chief Ophelia. Also there is Miss Pauline Barri as a feminine Hamlet. And finally there is the Ghost. It is indeed a rare thing when comedy may be squeezed from gowns of six centuries ago—modern sing in the big speeches—acrobatic business and expert mirthfulness.

Three young men, built for comedy purposes only, are Sam Howard, Jules Kibel and Sid Herbert. Their faces are

Arizona Is Hit at Hippodrome

After one of the most successful days of the season from a financial standpoint, the Hippodrome stage was converted from a vaudeville stage into a pretty western border town this afternoon, when "Arizona" was given a massive production by Director Charles King and the Hippodrome Players.

The audience of yesterday was entirely forgotten when the players commenced to read and act the roles written by Augustus Thomas for the red blooded tale of gunplay in a satisfactory manner. Thornton and Roscoe Karns carried the leading roles and were awarded excellent support.

"Arizona" tells a story of love, treachery, hate and retribution with the love of a woman for a scoundrel who tries to break up her home as the main theme. Roscoe Karns was right at home in his part and acted with his usual force and cleverness. He was surrounded by a big company, including all of the favorites and a number of newcomers who carried important roles in a satisfactory manner.

Featured in the cast was Frank Bonner, Howard Nugent, Rupert Drum, Vilma Stech, Gladys Kingbury, Margaret Nugent, Roy Kang and Clayton Smith.

Tabloid Drama Is Planned at Idora

Tabloid drama presented by a remarkable child actress—Mignon Callison, aged twelve years, whose home is in Berkeley—altogether with a series of classic dances by the same little miss, will be the feature of the Saturday afternoon program at Idora Park. The performance is free to the park visitors.

"The Little Rebel," the intense dramatic sketch from the pen of C. H. Pople, played in the city, is the vehicle chosen by Miss Callison for her premier appearance. Following this presentation, Mignon will dance an interpretative Grecian dance medley introducing the "Pirates of the Caribbean," a dainty, catching, butterfly and evening, exquisite bits of life and color. Then, too, she will dance the difficult toe-dance, "Harlequin Polka."

Sunday afternoon bay city folks will have an opportunity of seeing the two most famous women divers in America in competition for the Pacific Coast championships. The girls are Aileen Allen of Los Angeles, 1916 national champion, and Connie Myers of Portland, who holds the 1917 national title. Other mermaids will try for honors in the event.

Meanwhile in free dances that are held each night except Sunday are attracting widespread attention.

Lucretia Borgia at New T. & D.

A screen version of the celebrated drama, "The Eternal Sin," the play of Victor Hugo, entitled "The Eternal Sin," created intense interest as well as excitement at the New T. & D. Theater yesterday.

"The Eternal Sin," is a powerful dramatic play, full of action and suspense. It deals in a startling manner with the life of Lucretia Borgia, a beautiful woman, headstrong, and a stage character of great sin. Her adventures are portrayed in a vivid but not a sensational manner. The interest never lacks throughout the entire eight reels, and the picture is a most convincing portrayal of the title role.

Professor Steeles of the T. & D. Symphony Orchestra rendered several selections in a pleasing manner, while his companions in the orchestra were not less increased the enjoyment of that stirring drama considerably.

"Poor Little Rich Girl" Is Kinema Hit

Naturally every one is bound to want to compare Mary Pickford's "Poor Little Rich Girl" with the new Kinema hit, "The Little Girl." As seen at the Kinema, one realizes the limitations of the stage, and while there is a certain lack as compared with the book, one's imagination is appealed to more strongly.

As for Mary Pickford she is ideal, for she can put both pep and lovable poise into her part, she can mix it with the bulle of bulle, or she can melt the hearts of the most obdurate—always getting either a smile (if not a downright laugh) or an expression of real sympathy.

The Kinema picture is rounded out by a Norton Holmes, Keystone Comedy and a Weekly.

Society

Without a doubt knitting will be the salvation of the feminine population in these war days. And not a twenty-four hour passes but some organization recruits a coterie of the mistresses of the needles who are pledged to see to it that no soldier or sailor boy of Uncle Sam goes cold. Now to knit requires an easy, placid mind and as one clever young matron remarked in the midst of the construction of one of her complicated creation, if some one had taught the Kaiser the quieting art in his early boyhood there would have been no present war. Word has come that the expensive yarns are to be forthcoming after a bit from the government, which will mean that the $2,000,000 which has been appropriated will mean hundreds more busy fingers. Red Cross circles need lots more women who are willing to give up a little time each day to sock making and scarf making. Friday mornings are lesson days and the beginners' classes are heaps of fun at the headquarters.

Over in Alameda Mrs. L. L. Gillogly has undertaken to teach her sisters the soothing art of the needles and is assembling large volunteer classes at her attractive home. There is no place where a woman may not knit—cans, dinners, concerts, lectures, university classes, between the classes, everybody is knitting and every place.

Bridge clubs are falling before the lure of the soft colors and yarns and prize money is pouring in a steady stream into Red Cross headquarters.

The Countess Anselme de Mailly-Chalon has joined the little colony of the smart set at Saratoga for a brief outing after spending some delightful days at the Walnut Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Banoroff. This charming girl whose husband is fighting at present in Russia will be remembered as the former Miss Marguerite Morbio.

The informal reception which is being planned for tomorrow evening at Hotel St. Francis in honor of Captain Frederick Thurston Robson, who is spending a brief leave of absence with his home folk before reporting for duty which will take him into the field with the new army, is one of the happiest events which the week promises. Captain Robson was one of the twenty-nine who received honors in the training camp at the Vancouver barracks. A ten days' leave is being spent in Berkeley. Sharing the compliment of the delightful affair at which friends will drop in for a bit of greeting will be David E. Barrows, a son of a son of Barrows, Captain Walter H. Reed and Mrs. Reed, Lieutenant Ralph Mahon and Mrs. Mahon, Lieutenant Lynn Schloss, Lieutenant E. H. Lee and Mrs. Lee. These officers were among those whom the college town sent to the first officers' reserve training camp at the Presidio. They have each received their commissions and are leaving within a few days for their new duties.

Miss Dorothy Egbert has been honored by being made the appointee of Mrs. Ethel Capehart Vivreux to the bay cities. Mrs. Vivreux has come to California as a delegate from the French and Red Cross Society to a convention to raise $200,000 together with supplies of food for the men who have taken on the home of France and are in the hospitals. With a fine enthusiasm Miss Egbert is taking up the cause of the society across the seas and claiming the allegiance of the French citizen by reason of a marriage when next month four days of given up to a "Food Contribution Benefit." Gifts of package goods or foodstuffs easily transported will be received at 315 Thirteenth street, beginning September 3 to 6.

Mrs. Henry Wetherbee and her sister, Mrs. Selah Merrill have returned to their home in the city residence enthusiastic over the week which they spent at Foresta, the beautiful spot at the entrance of the Yosemite. Distinguished men and women—artists, musicians, scientists, scholars, poets, university professors, those whose names are familiar to the readers of the great magazines, a little play time in the great forests. Mrs. Wetherbee was invited to contribute one of the interesting talks to the program which was arranged for each day and to which the representatives of the arts and professions were expected to lend themselves in an informal symposium. Mrs. Merrill, wife of the late Dr. Selah Merrill, consul to Jerusalem, has some remarkable experiences during her sojourn in the Holy Land, gave another of the remarkable talks of the unique conference.

The Piedmont branch of the Red Cross has become an assured organization. Mrs. Harry Thomas is opening her Oakland avenue home on Thursday to the charter members when the details of the newest auxiliary to the national patriotic society will be perfected. Mrs. Thomas has been named acting chairman with Mrs. George Ross as secretary. The personnel of the exclusive branch will be a notable one. The women who will form the charter list number Mrs. William E. Sharon, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Mrs. H. C. Myratt, Mrs. E. J. Boyes, Mrs. Ernest Boyes, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Owen E. Hotie, Mrs. G. Vanderpeperboom, Mrs. Geo. Ross, Mrs. A. E. Irving, Mrs. George Springer, Mrs. C. E. Gause, Mrs. M. S. Patton, Miss Blanche Wynne, Miss Mary Donaldson, Miss Jeanne Gregory.

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Dodge and Lieutenant George Nevins takes place this evening at the residence of her parents, Colonel Daniel Lester Dodge and Mrs. Dodge, in San Diego. The bride has been spending some delightful days in the bay cities where she was extensively feted on both sides the bay. Her fiancé is the son of Air and Mrs. Alfred George Nevins of Chicago. His sister, Miss Eleanor Nevins came west to attend Miss Dodge as maid of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Britton, Jr., with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cowles who made up a congenial motoring party which spent the earlier morning in a tour of the high Sierras are again in town where they have opened their pretty homes for the season.

The charming home which was prepared for the home coming of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mellon in Park boulevard has been taken possession by the young couple who are devoting the late August days to the task of getting settled. The marriage of the young business man and Miss Adele Louise Tuttle was an interesting ceremony of a week ago and was followed by a motor trip through Lake county with brief stops at several of the popular resorts. The attractive bride will receive a cordial welcome from the smart set and with the opening of the new season will inspire some of the more elaborate functions of the winter.

Miss Jessie Craig has returned to the family home in Piedmont after a sojourn of several months in the Yosemite. She went into the Valley in the mid May, enjoying some novel experience during the long season. This is the second year which Miss Craig has remained in the wonder spot throughout the entire summer until she has become familiar with its historic beauties and identified closely with its life.

Mrs. Leslie Rice will be the inspiration for a house dance for which Mrs. Raymond Arthur Perry is claiming a score or more guests on the evening of Thursday, September 6. Mrs. Rice has been spending some weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Layman, from her new home in Arizona.

A little daughter has made her advent into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Dorn. Mrs. Dorn will be remembered as Miss Ina Hille of Chico, a charming young matron, who since her marriage a season or so ago has been popular with the smart set on both sides the bay.

With Miss Emelia Christlike as her guest of honor, Mrs. Lloyd Robbins was a luncheon hostess of the past week, sharing her hospitality with a coterie of the younger set from both sides the bay. Miss Peris Holden was also a guest at the charming affair. Miss Christie is planning her immediate plans for the wedding. The formal announcement of the engagement was made at a luncheon over which Mrs. Ellis

DOUBLE INNING FOR BEES FROM TWO BAD INNINGS

By Carl E. Brazier.

Two bad innings, one by Red Oldham in the morning game, and one by Baker in the afternoon game, cost the Bees two games yesterday. A double Sal Lake win boosted the Bees up to within four and a half games of the league leaders. The double win gave the Bees the week's series, four games to three. The morning game gave Red Oldham a chance to wonder whether his next suspension will be final. The afternoon game was the highest and noisiest crowd of the season played of real baseball thrills, and gave Oldham his first defeat after running up a string of seven straight wins.

Butler fans in pinch.

Rath's triple and two walks and a hit batter gave the Bees a 3-2 lead in the eighth. Butcher Byler, local boy, catching for Sal Lake, had a chance before the Oakland fans to be a hero, but with the bases filled he ended the inning by striking out on three called strikes. Two more walks and Orr's double gave the Bees two in the second and the third. The morning game, however, relieved Oldham and doing some regular pitching for the rest of the game. In the eighth, the only time after Decanieri took the mound that the Bees advanced a man beyond first base.

The second game was one of the prettiest battles of the year between Walter and Decanieri. The morning game, however, pitched the better game although Erickson did not deserve to win, both of the Bees runs of a 2 to 0 score being earned. Erickson pitched the better part of the game, watching the big crowd bear down on him with a single and a double. With the bases filled in the sixth inning, two men out, and three balls and two strikes on Tommy Quinn, Erickson fed over a perfect ball and got a swing that missed and the biggest crowd since opening week settled back and began to breathe again.

SEALS PUT OVER SCORE.

With that bit of game work on the part of Erickson to cheer them on, the Seals went out in the eighth and gave him one run lead, breaking up the row of goose eggs on the scoreboard. Schaller pitched with a hot drive down the first base line that Schaller could not hold. Mabel sacrificed and Jerry Downs came through in the pinch with a sizzler along the grass between Schaller and Schaller scored on the drive, but Koerner and Corban fled to the outfield and Downs did not get on the path.

Corban operated the field with a single and Baker walked; Erickson sacrificed and with runners on second and third and the top of the inning. The things looked bad for Laverenz. But Calvo fled to Ryan and Gilsom made a great running stop of Pick's drive to throw him out at first.

BEES THREATEN OFFENSE.

The Bees had nine men on bases in the first seven innings. Two had gone as far as third and another had been thrown out at home. In the eighth a walk and Crandall's double put Erickson in another hole. But he might have pulled out of it, but for De Baker. Quinn rapped one to Erickson and he looked to have won with a single along the line. The Bees, however, did not get back to third. In the meantime Crandall had reached third and Quinn was leading off the base. Baker threw to Downs to get Quinn and the throw went wild. Crandall scoring and Quinn continuing in safety to third. Mabel made a great throw, handed down after Hannah's drive to left center and missed it, the hit going for bases, scoring the run that put the Bees out in front.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—More than 600 appeared on the entry list when the Grand American handicap trapshooting tournament opened here today. Many stars will participate.

Amateurs opened play in the south shore introductory in which there were 200 targets on an eighteen-yard range.

The national amateur handicap begins tomorrow. There will be 100 single targets on a sixteen-foot rise.

The preliminary handicap, open to amateurs, will be held Wednesday. The grand event is to be on Thursday and the consolation handicap Friday.

Daily matches between professional shooters will be held in addition to the regular program.

Preliminary events were cleaned up yesterday when A. B. Richardson memorial trophy and William Ridley of What Cheer, Iowa, successfully defended the hazard doubles trophy.

Chicago—the second city in the United States—will this week be the scene of the greatest battle of modern times.

The greatest destruction in the Chicago battle will be the smashing of many thousands of clay targets and pigeons as they are more commonly called in the past twelve years 2,111,150 of these clay targets have been smashed in the Grand American Trapshooting Handicap tournament and this one in Chicago will be bigger than any of the others and therefore the destruction of the clay will be greater.

This Chicago battle, which will take place on the shore of Lake Michigan, at the South Shore Country Club, will give many Americans a chance to arms. It will be the 18th running of the Grand American Trapshooting Handicap tournament and some 80 trapshooters—men and women—boys and girls, will answer the roll call. Fourteen traps have been placed along Lake Michigan for this year's event. They will fire at the targets with the blue waters of the lake as the background.

FINEST PLACE IN WORLD.

A finer place for the trapshooters to battle could not be secured. The South Shore Country Club is one of the show places of America. It is the most beautiful town and country club in the world. It is an organization of Chicago's most representative citizens and represents an investment of nearly $2,000,000. It is the world's fair and the world's drive following the South Park Boulevard through Washington and Jackson Parks, and ending at the South Shore Country Club is said to be the finest in the world.

This is the fifth time that Chicago has staged the Grand American Handicap tournament.

The South Shore introductory takes place on the opening day, the Chicago Overture, the National amateur championship and the National amateur championship the second day, the Preliminary handicap on the third day, the Grand American Handicap on the fourth day and the Consolation Handicap the fifth and concluding day. There will be special events for women and professional shooters each one of these to decide the women's and professional championships.

Hunting and Fishing Conditions Improving in Northern Counties

New District Gives Good Results From the Start

Deer and trout can be bagged almost anywhere in the northern half of the state right now. District one, which opened for deer last week, is yielding good results already, and the hunters are still finding good results in those sections which have been open since the first of the month.

Many hunters are taking long trips into the Sierras, but if one is not afraid of the foot with guns, the more settled parts are almost as good for deer. So far only two hunters have been reported to have bagged deer in the mountains and these "accidents" were in the remote parts of the state. The Livermore hills, though swarmed with hunters, are fairly safe as the country is more open than in the mountains.

One of the promising places that opened for deer last week is the region between Lake region, Madera and Mariposa counties are also getting their share of the hunters.

One of the most popular parts of the vacation season, the fishing enthusiasts are having things all their own way now. Everywhere in the mountains the trout are rising well, and should continue to do so until the snow flies in the Sierras.

Fishing is also improving. A few salmon, mostly small ones, have been caught inside the bay, while those who are out on the fishing boats are making for the sloughs, and fishermen are getting fair results in all the Sonoma marshes. Wingo has been good all week. Crockett is fair and improving, while Rodeo is in and out.

Henry and "Frenchy" Webber, two well known local ball players, are at Cloverdale after deer this week.

Out of a party of eleven hunters who traveled the country around Geyserville last week, four got results. Peroney, Plater and O'Keefe all brought home bucks weighing from 85 to 115 pounds dressed. The Kelley Ranch, near Geyserville, furnishing most of the hunting in that vicinity.

J. P. Maxwell is on his way to Yosemite as the country is more open than in the mountains.

Lloyd Fuller is out after both deer and trout in a two-weeks' trip to Humboldt county.

R. S. Sanderson will make Plumas Meadows his headquarters for a fishing trip this week.

Harry Pulifer and Charley Kahler took a party on a bay fishing trip last week. At Crockett the party had the best luck, getting several bass over 10 pounds.

Just Taking a Cut at 'Em

By C. E. Brazier

It was a bad day for pitching records yesterday. Old Erickson had won his last seven games until yesterday and errors beat him out of another win. The Seals ended the inning by striking out on three called strikes. Two more walks and Orr's double gave the Bees two in the second and the third. The morning game, however, relieved Oldham and doing some regular pitching for the rest of the game. In the eighth, the only time after Decanieri took the mound that the Bees advanced a man beyond first base.

The second game was one of the prettiest battles of the year between Walter and Decanieri. The morning game, however, pitched the better game although Erickson did not deserve to win, both of the Bees runs of a 2 to 0 score being earned. Erickson pitched the better part of the game, watching the big crowd bear down on him with a single and a double. With the bases filled in the sixth inning, two men out, and three balls and two strikes on Tommy Quinn, Erickson fed over a perfect ball and got a swing that missed and the biggest crowd since opening week settled back and began to breathe again.

SEALS PUT OVER SCORE.

With that bit of game work on the part of Erickson to cheer them on, the Seals went out in the eighth and gave him one run lead, breaking up the row of goose eggs on the scoreboard. Schaller pitched with a hot drive down the first base line that Schaller could not hold. Mabel sacrificed and Jerry Downs came through in the pinch with a sizzler along the grass between Schaller and Schaller scored on the drive, but Koerner and Corban fled to the outfield and Downs did not get on the path.

Corban operated the field with a single and Baker walked; Erickson sacrificed and with runners on second and third and the top of the inning. The things looked bad for Laverenz. But Calvo fled to Ryan and Gilsom made a great running stop of Pick's drive to throw him out at first.

BEES THREATEN OFFENSE.

The Bees had nine men on bases in the first seven innings. Two had gone as far as third and another had been thrown out at home. In the eighth a walk and Crandall's double put Erickson in another hole. But he might have pulled out of it, but for De Baker. Quinn rapped one to Erickson and he looked to have won with a single along the line. The Bees, however, did not get back to third. In the meantime Crandall had reached third and Quinn was leading off the base. Baker threw to Downs to get Quinn and the throw went wild. Crandall scoring and Quinn continuing in safety to third. Mabel made a great throw, handed down after Hannah's drive to left center and missed it, the hit going for bases, scoring the run that put the Bees out in front.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—More than 600 appeared on the entry list when the Grand American handicap trapshooting tournament opened here today. Many stars will participate.

Amateurs opened play in the south shore introductory in which there were 200 targets on an eighteen-yard range.

The national amateur handicap begins tomorrow. There will be 100 single targets on a sixteen-foot rise.

The preliminary handicap, open to amateurs, will be held Wednesday. The grand event is to be on Thursday and the consolation handicap Friday.

Daily matches between professional shooters will be held in addition to the regular program.

Preliminary events were cleaned up yesterday when A. B. Richardson memorial trophy and William Ridley of What Cheer, Iowa, successfully defended the hazard doubles trophy.

Chicago—the second city in the United States—will this week be the scene of the greatest battle of modern times.

The greatest destruction in the Chicago battle will be the smashing of many thousands of clay targets and pigeons as they are more commonly called in the past twelve years 2,111,150 of these clay targets have been smashed in the Grand American Trapshooting Handicap tournament and this one in Chicago will be bigger than any of the others and therefore the destruction of the clay will be greater.

This Chicago battle, which will take place on the shore of Lake Michigan, at the South Shore Country Club, will give many Americans a chance to arms. It will be the 18th running of the Grand American Trapshooting Handicap tournament and some 80 trapshooters—men and women—boys and girls, will answer the roll call. Fourteen traps have been placed along Lake Michigan for this year's event. They will fire at the targets with the blue waters of the lake as the background.

FINEST PLACE IN WORLD.

A finer place for the trapshooters to battle could not be secured. The South Shore Country Club is one of the show places of America. It is the most beautiful town and country club in the world. It is an organization of Chicago's most representative citizens and represents an investment of nearly $2,000,000. It is the world's fair and the world's drive following the South Park Boulevard through Washington and Jackson Parks, and ending at the South Shore Country Club is said to be the finest in the world.

This is the fifth time that Chicago has staged the Grand American Handicap tournament.

The South Shore introductory takes place on the opening day, the Chicago Overture, the National amateur championship and the National amateur championship the second day, the Preliminary handicap on the third day, the Grand American Handicap on the fourth day and the Consolation Handicap the fifth and concluding day. There will be special events for women and professional shooters each one of these to decide the women's and professional championships.

FIGHTING FOR PERMANENT PEACE.

The main, high moral purpose of the entente allies in the war should and must be to make the recurrence of war as near as humanly may be an impossibility; to create effective, permanent guarantees for future world peace. This object should be accomplished so thoroughly as to make the dreams of the most ardent pacifist a glorious reality.

But that cannot be brought about by a compromise which will be nothing better than an armistice of uncertain duration. Any settlement which will result in a restoration of the political conditions which prevailed before the war will cause all the sacrifice of life, property and treasure to be vain. Nothing less than conditions under which the world will be "safe for democracy" can prove acceptable to the United States and her allies.

It is profitless to talk of relying upon the moral and Christian forces of the belligerent peoples to preserve the future peace when such forces among the central powers are either entirely lacking or in the keeping of the Pan-German militarists. The atrocities and the tribulations inflicted upon the Belgian people, of which the good Cardinal Mercier has been a faithful, though inadequate, chronicler are indubitable evidence of this; and then there is the massacre of the Christians of Armenia committed by Turkey, Germany's mercenary ally.

Until the power responsible for these outrages is destroyed by the civilized nations or repudiated by the German people it is idle to talk of permanent peace, and in view of its sacrifices civilization cannot be satisfied with anything less than a permanent peace.

FOR AN AMERICAN ALLIANCE.

The republic of Uruguay has issued a decree abandoning its neutrality in the war between the United States and Germany in such form as to indicate a measurable step in advance of the policy of Brazil and significantly opposite to the stand maintained by Argentina. It is in effect a declaration of the principle of American solidarity, which readers of THE TRIBUNE will recall was urged upon the people of North and South America prior to the revocation of Brazil's neutrality.

In abandoning neutrality, Uruguay has gone a step further and ordered that no American nation which in defense of its own rights should find itself in a state of war with nations of other continents shall be treated as belligerents. Thus this South American republic is looking further ahead than any of its neighbors, so far as official action indicates. Not only in this war but in future wars in which an independent nation of the American continent may be involved, Uruguay will not regard such a nation as a belligerent, but will assume toward it the attitude of at least a benevolent friend and ally. In explaining this stand, the President of Uruguay said:

"Considering that in various communications the government of Uruguay has proclaimed the principle of American solidarity as the criterion of its international policy; understanding that the grievance against the rights of one country of the continent should be considered as a grievance by all and provoke them to uniform and common reaction; that in the hope of seeing an agreement in this respect realized between the nations of America which will make the practical and efficient application of such ideas possible, the government has adopted a watchful attitude with reference to its action, although it has signified in each case its sympathy with the continental nations which have seen themselves obliged to abandon their neutrality; and, considering that as long as such an agreement is not made, Uruguay, without acting contrary to its sentiments and convictions, could not treat the American nations which in defense of their own rights find themselves compromised in an intercontinental war as belligerents, Uruguay will not regard any American nation as a belligerent."

Uruguay by this action has recorded her belief that the future of the American nations can be secured only by the adoption by all of the principle of American solidarity. She would like to see all the nations bound together in an agreement which will make the "practical and efficient application" of the idea possible. The government of the United States should have taken the lead in this matter; surely it can give endorsement and practical aid to the plan which one of the smallest of American nations has promulgated.

BOOM IN PHILIPPINE FARMING.

Thousands of copies of the appeal of President Wilson, printed in Spanish and English, to the men, women and children on the farms within the territories of the United States for full cooperation in order that the entire resources of the nation may be placed in the scales in the war against the Prussian government have been scattered broadcast throughout the Philippine Islands. They have been distributed by the director of agriculture to division superintendents of schools, consular officers, provincial officials and members of the agricultural field force.

The response has been gratifying. The Filipino tillers of the soil, old men, women and children, have shown the same enthusiasm that their abled-bodied brothers are showing in joining the militia.

The bureau of agriculture has conducted one of the most important campaigns ever inaugurated in the Philippines. Filipinos already had become interested in the possibilities of their native soil, and it was inevitable that a crisis such as the present should serve to increase their interest to a large degree. Booms have been noticed in the growing of rubber, cane, kapok, hemp; in the increase of the irrigation systems; in the scientific treatment of the soil.

Whether the fruits of this intense revival in agriculture and the unprecedented application of modern scientific methods will aid in the prosecution of the war or not, the Filipino people are sure of permanent benefits as a result of the President's appeal. They will learn by practice more about the possibilities of the soil and the profits of industry.

It has been announced in Chicago and other cities that the "German-Americans of the stock of 1848" are to organize to protest and work against the Prussian military caste. The few survivors of '48 and their descendants ought to have a very clear idea of what autocracy means and their resentment of the manner in which the crimes of Prussian militarism has brought reproach upon the name "German" throughout the world is easily understood. Mr. Otto H. Kahn, the New York banker and philanthropist, expressed the idea with admirable clearness in an address before the Merchants' Association of New York City when he said:

"Speaking as one born of German parents, I do not hesitate to state it as my deep conviction that the greatest service which men of German birth or antecedents can render to the country of their origin is to proclaim and to stand up for those great and fine ideals and national qualities and traditions which they inherited from their ancestors, and to set their faces like flint against the monstrous doctrines and acts of a rulership which have robbed them of the Germany which they loved and in which they took just pride, the Germany which had the good will, respect, and admiration of the entire world."

Prof. Kuno Meyer, sojourning in California, complains that the German people cannot understand why America should be at war with the avowed object of preventing the power of the Prussian oligarchy longer to menace democracy. Perhaps Prof. Meyer is still ignorant of the fact that the people of the United States have discovered that no German scholar has ever hesitated to prostitute his international good name to advance the cause of Pan-Germanism. But if he is aware of this his efforts are pitifully childish.

The British government has placed an order for $50,000 worth of canned California apricots, the fruit to be delivered from the canneries at Pomona, Hemet and Kingsburg. The first car load of this order left Monday over the Southern Pacific and contained 90,000 pounds of fruit in 1500 cases. Thus selected California fruit will soon grace the mess tables of British army officers and soldiers in France, Macedonia, Egypt and Mesopotamia.

NOT IRREMEDIAL.

There is little chance, or none, that anything in the way of official action will come of the proposal that the Government take in hand the young men who have been exempted from military service as physically disqualified, and, by putting them through a course of treatment and training, make a considerable number of them fit to enter the army. The thing could be done, of course, and the doing in itself would be commendable, its effects desirable, but it would take a lot of time and money, and all the men needed can be obtained without entering upon an undertaking at once so novel and so laborious. The mere making of the suggestion, however, has interest of several kinds and inspires thought as diverse.

In the first place, every one of these young men, by the revelation and formal announcement of his inability to act as a man's part in his country's service, has been subjected to a humiliation that is deeply felt by many of them and should be so felt by all whose defects are remediable in the way proposed. The disgrace is real, but, instead of grieving or sulking over it, each of the young men so exempted should promptly resolve to do for himself exactly what the Government could, and in these cases the following of that course is quite feasible, and an added incentive for pursuing it might be given if these young men should read "Erewhon," that greatest, or at any rate next to greatest, satire in the English language, and ask himself if the Erewhonians really were as mad as they seem to be at first thought in regarding disease, not as a misfortune, but as a fault, and punishing its victims with a severity proportioned to the incivility they had displayed in letting themselves become and remain ill.

There is, indeed, a current division of diseases into those that are "preventable" and those that are not. This distinction is not a hard and fast one, and it might be condemned as wholly fallacious were it not that in ignorance there is a sort of innocence, and that there are still a few diseases the cause of which is as unknown as the cure. There is no innocence in negligence, however, and no irresponsibility. Any man who, in the flower of his age, finds himself unable to perform the citizen's highest duty is under every obligation to do something about it, if there is anything to be done, and in at least nine cases out of ten there is.—New York Times.

NOTES and COMMENT

The czar may not know exactly where he is going, but he is on his way. The general direction is Siberia.

The deliberate burning of the St. Quentin cathedral was such a wanton act that it would outlaw the people guilty of it if they had not already placed themselves beyond the pale by a long series of acts that are worse.

If the judge has a session with the attorney who played the cute trick of getting him to set September 21 as the day for the trial of his client it would not be a surprise. September has but thirty days, while the attorney must have had in mind, but which the judge overlooked.

Congresswoman Rankin takes to the political method as readily as the proverbial duck takes to water. Her return to Butte to investigate labor troubles is generally considered a move looking to the future. But then, what would a man do?

Stockholm, it has been observed, is likely to be amended into "Stick-stock" by the course of action of the several allied governments in refusing passports for delegates to the Socialist convention.

Senator La Follette says the newspapers do not do him justice. He ought to let it go at that. If they did what a great majority consider to be justice he would have real cause to complain.

Real news from the Hayward Journal: "Pinky Leonard gathered two out of 4, his blows generally come at the opportune time. Pinky brings the fans to their feet coming through with many new points in playing the National pastime. 'Bess' Silva, assistant manager, held up Dolan's slants in nice style."

Holland protests our embargo on food exports, and Japan objects to our embargo on steel. Which shows that this country is much depended on both west and east.

There may be more inadmissible characters than those who take big chances in supplying liquor to soldiers, but it would be hard to suggest them.

Mexico is to float a $125,000,000 loan. She will need a good deal of sea room in the operation, and a lot of water is likely to leak in upon the cargo.

John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, asks unstinted loyalty of the members of his order. Thus the real workers of the country are endeavoring to differentiate themselves from pretended workers, who are doing much to embarrass the country's patriotic effort.

Anybody caught prowling about Camp Fremont is to be fired upon without aid and investigated afterwards. This order of procedure is important to the person fired at if he is missed. Otherwise he will not be interested.

Fearing a rival an Ohio woman killed off her family and herself, as was advised in a despatch. It was effective in silencing the trouble, but it was rather drastic.

The army engineers are not in favor of the perfectly feasible plan of making San Jose a port of entry. Extending navigable water to that city would be a simple process of digging, with not even a boulder to complicate the work.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Jack Pickford may not be as pretty a looking individual as his sister Mary, but the Pleasanton people will welcome Jack and his company of actors with the same enthusiasm as they will his sister, if either of them ever come to Pleasanton again.—Pleasanton Times.

California harvested a bumper baby crop in 1916, even if the state was a little short on potatoes and onions. Figures just compiled by George D. Leslie, statistician of the State Board of Health, show that during 1916 the state paid California homes 50,638 visits, an increase of 2563 over 1915.—Merced Star.

H. H. Haight, accompanied by his wife and a number of friends from Oakland, were visitors in town the first of the week. Mr. Haight is a son of the late Governor Haight, one of California's governors, and prominent in San Francisco where a principal street carries his name.—Auburn Republican.

Sunday of last week, at 6 in the morning, a boy was born in an automobile on the road between the Nelson and Tidel ranches. The machine was occupied by the mother, father and a man friend, and was on the way from Cotulla to Vallejo.—Vacaville Reporter.

Thirteen auto trailers, part of the equipment for fighting fires throughout the county, have been completed by a Sacramento firm and assigned to the various stations throughout the county.—Solano Republican.

The Pioneer Fruit Company is now shipping East from this part of Contra Costa county ten carloads of Bartlett pears every day. The Earl Fruit Company is also shipping a large number of carloads daily. The pears are selling for from $50 to $80 per ton, according to demand and quality, and the growers are consequently well satisfied. For the last two seasons the pear crop in this vicinity has been unusually heavy and the growers attribute this to irrigation.—Concord Transcript.

Work of erecting the concrete pedestal for the Donner monument will begin as soon as the material can be put on the ground. The Native Sons, who have taken up the work of preserving ancient landmarks and history and of establishing marks of places of historic interest, have signed the contract through the chairman of committee with J. H. Woods, who has the work in charge. The monument will be erected at a spot about three miles from the lake, where the ill-fated party perished. The dedication will be at convening of the Grand Parlor, the third week of June next.—Auburn Republican.

I WONDER IF SOME HERO WILL GET THIS SWEATER

—Patrick in New Orleans Times-Picayune—

KILLING A MAN EXCUSABLE BECAUSE NO PROTECTION PROVIDED BY LAW.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

On the third of August, Harry Strutz and Eugene Parr, with three other friends, all of Hopland, took a trip to the secret haunts of the antlered deer. Having arrived on the ground in the early morning, Strutz with another member of the party were stationed on a point while Parr and the other two companions went higher up the ridge and started the dogs. The dogs by their barking, gave evidence that the chase was on. Strutz and his companion realizing that another stand higher up the mountain would give them a better view of the country, ran up the hill through the brush. Mr. Parr saw the brush moving and thinking it was the deer that the dogs were after, fired, with the result that Strutz was shot, the bullet entering at the point of the right shoulder ranging upward through the muscles of the back and lodging in the left side of the neck. The physician in attendance says that his chances for recovery are doubtful, which report we are glad to hear. But what is the excuse offered? Accident, of course. Now I take this occasion to say that when a man does the very thing that is his intent there is no accident because he has accomplished his purpose—that of shooting something he cannot see. If it had been a fawn, doe, or spike buck, a crime would have been committed just the same. Is not the life of a man more valuable than either of these? Yet a man is in no way protected against this heinous practice. I say practice because every year during the open season for deer many men are killed or wounded.

Don't you, Mr. TRIBUNE, Mr. Sportsman and you Citizen at large, think it time that some law was formed and enacted to at least curb this awful crime, for crime it certainly is. What could be done to stop this practice? The man who willfully shoots into the brush in this manner should be reported and forever denied a hunting license and also held responsible for any harm that he may have committed.

Another case. Near Redding a boy was driving home the cows and was taken for a deer and was shot and badly wounded. The doctor removed 54 shot from his face and body. In this case the perpetrator of the crime made his getaway and was not known. I have been making regular trips into the woods for many years and am glad to record the absence of any accident or rather foolhardy trick of this kind. Such tragedies should be stopped. H. L. SWEENEY, 2912 Otis street, Berkeley, August 13, 1917.

NEMESIS.

He married her because she cooked
Such steak as heart could wish,
But now without a protest brooked
She sternly feeds him fish.
Ram it down,
Cram it down,
Damp it down,
She feeds him fish!

He spiced with her because she made
Light biscuits every morn,
But now as patriot aid
She grimly feeds him corn.
Poke it down,
Stoke it down,
She feeds him corn!

He wedded her because he sighed

PRIMARILY THEIR FAULT.

Why are we at war? inquire the pacifists, querulously.—Exchange.
For one thing, because a lot of peace-at-any-price pacifists and anti-preparationist sapheads, with their tools in Congress, prevented such preparedness against war as would have made risking the forcing of the United States into the war too visibly dangerous a proposition to be entertained by a government with its hands full of trouble already.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Following the rush of gold-seekers to the Klondike, there were rumors that gold had been found in different parts of California. W. T. Hall and J. McCumber chartered the yacht Emerald at Alameda for an expedition in search of gold on the coast of Lower California.

The musicians of this city decided to form a musicians' club. Julius Oettie of Alameda presided at the meeting at which the proposal was discussed.

It was decided to provide facilities at Adams wharf for the storage of grain and for loading vessels that discharged cargoes of coal at the bunkers.

Captain J. Cal Ewing of the county baseball team, which claimed a 28-27 victory over the Oakland city hall team, despite the assertion of the latter that the game was a 28-28 draw, accepted the city team's challenge to play a second game. H. W. Thomas was captain of the city hall team.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bryan and daughter of Alameda returned from the Klondike.

PAUL SMITH OFFERS TO QUIT PULPIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—Rev. Paul Smith, whose activity against immorality in San Francisco resulted in the closing down of the restricted districts last February, has offered to resign his post as pastor of Central M. E. Church in the event that his congregation prove unsympathetic with his efforts to bring about the recall of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert. Although Smith believes his congregation is with him in the fight against the prosecutor he announced from his pulpit yesterday afternoon that if there proved to be a majority or even a large minority against him in his battle for the recall of Fickert he would gladly seek another pastorate.

"Those who have associated themselves with me in the battle which we are about to undertake," declared Smith in part, "believed with myself several months ago that the sacred step now sought to be accomplished would be unnecessary. Events have so shaped themselves that we believe it our duty to go ahead and I am going to enter the campaign with all the strength at my disposal. It has come to me that there has been some whispering to the effect that my congregation and while I believe fundamentally and with all my heart that Central Church standards will be upheld by making a clean fight and accomplishing something that will be felt not only in San Francisco but throughout the country, I do not wish to do anything which will not have the support of my people. In all lovingness and gentleness I say that if there is a majority or a considerable minority of the congregation who believe that the history and standing of this church are of such a nature as would not harmonize with the battle I am about to undertake, I will gladly step out and let another minister pastor and seek for myself a post elsewhere. In saying this to you I am mindful of the fact that you have been with me in the past, but I do not desire to go contrary to the wishes of my congregation. I believe it my duty to be in this fight and I believe that the work that Central Church will be doing will be of lasting benefit to this community and will be felt all over the country. The clergyman indicated plainly that he was going into the fight against Fickert with all the forces at his command. His statement as given during his sermon on Sunday at the Central Church, his sermon on the Fickert recall followed at the evening service.

Pershing, Petain, Inspect Troops Commander "Entirely Satisfied"

By J. W. Pegler, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 20.—General Pershing thinks his soldiers are "progressing satisfactorily" in their battle training. He said so today following a surprise inspection visit of yesterday.

"I am entirely satisfied with what I have seen," the American commander asserted. One thing that impressed me forcibly was the spirit of the officers and men."

The first notice the American troops had of their commander's visit was an excited burst of bugle calls about dawn. The men tumbled hurriedly from their bunks and lined up at assembly. Then the word flew over the camp that General Pershing and General Petain had quietly slipped into the adjacent town during the night.

The United States troops stood at attention while a dust cloud grew bigger and bigger on the road, heralding the visitors' approach in automobiles. Then came the formal reception at camp headquarters and the inspection. The two generals passed between long rows of the American troops, Petain being particularly interested in the sharpshooter and marksmanship medals won by numerous American fighters. He stopped to examine them and to talk to the men thus decorated.

Petain and his staff wore the French horizon-blue uniform, contrasting vividly with the dull colored uniforms of the American troops. Inspecting French villagers, dressed in their "Sunday best," watched the whole proceeding with avid interest, tagging along behind.

At one point in the inspection tour a little red-haired girl from the village came to the official party and presented General Petain with a bouquet. The French commander stopped and kissed the girl on both cheeks. General Pershing hesitated and then did likewise.

The American fighters were pleased with their showing at the inspection. It afforded them an opportunity to demonstrate that they had profited by previous criticisms and acquired more sprappiness.

WILSON WILL REJECT PLAN FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Wilson will definitely reject Pope Benedict's peace proposals. Practically every administration official here agreed on this today. The President, however, has not yet reduced a decision to writing, but the expectation is at least he retains an "open mind."

But the rejection will come and it will be definite in its terms. It was learned from intimate official sources that the action, instead of retarding the much-hoped-for peace movement, instead may expedite it. The President in possession of much confidential information which is withheld from publication, is convinced that the unrest which precipitated the recent German cabinet crisis has increased instead of diminished.

ROME, Aug. 20.—Pope Benedict is so interested in the world attitude on his peace proposal that he has ordered a vatican routine to rise an hour earlier and read press comment from all capitals. The holy father instituted the new plan today.

Special arrangements have been made to keep Pope Benedict informed of all developments in belligerent nations.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The allies will come before the pope's peace plan. Lord Cecil, minister of blockade, made this announcement in the House of Commons today.

A meeting of the majority parties in the German Reichstag has been called for this afternoon in Berlin to discuss Pope Benedict's peace note. A decision on the proposal is expected to be announced until after Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, makes his proposed speech before the Reichstag tomorrow.

It was the majority parties that adopted a peace resolution in the Reichstag before it adjourned early this morning.

MEET TUESDAY

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—The main committee of the Reichstag will meet Tuesday to deal with the military and economic situation in the empire, which is said to be considerably improved. The committee, existing since weeks ago when the political crisis occurred, at that time the Reichstag were penetrating further into Galicia, while the U-boats figured threatened to shatter the food situation in Germany. Then anything but confident-inspiring, due to a shortage of potatoes and absence of new vegetables and fruit and to reduced bread rations. Today the situation has been completely changed. The arrival of a new potato crop, added bread rations and an improvement in the supply of vegetables, while the military situation on the eastern front, according to the official leaders, has been completely changed. The rout of the Russians and Rumanians and a redemption of Austrian soil from the invaders.

PEACE PACT IS ADOPTED BY MASONS

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Masons of Italy, France, Belgium, Portugal, Serbia and some of the European neutrals, it is learned today, met in Paris two months ago and adopted what are known as the white peace proposals, so called from the color of the governments' flag in contradiction to the black proposals of the Vatican and the "red" of the Socialists.

The grand lodges of England, Ireland and Scotland were not represented because they refrain from all political questions, both national and international. The Paris meeting formed an organization known as the Society of Nations, with an international parliament charged with the duty of solving conflicts between countries on the basis of autonomy and independence of nations and solidarity among peoples. The Paris Masons stated the terms as follows:

One—The return of Alsace and Lorraine to France.

Two—The reconstruction by reunion of the three fragments of Poland (Russian, Prussian and Austrian) into an independent nation.

Three—The independence of Bohemia.

Four—The liberation and unification of all nationalities today oppressed by the political and administrative organization of the Hapsburg empire in its various dominions which declared themselves in favor of such a course by plebiscite.

ITALIAN DELEGATES

The Italian delegates pleaded for more explicit terms regarding Trentino, but they were overruled. An intense dispute arose and certain sections of the Italian press condemned the terms. Ettore Ferrar, for years the grand master of the Grand Orient of Italy, resigned, but reconsidered when Andre Lebey, French deputy, who drafted the terms, explained further just what he considered the terms covered.

Being fully aware of this friction, the Vatican aimed to profit by the dispute among the anti-clerical forces of Rome. The London correspondent of the Birmingham Post, who is one of the highest Masons in England, writes on this point:

"While judiciously vague regarding territorial questions like those of the Trentino, Italy, Austria and between Germany and France—these have been the Trentino and Alsace and Lorraine—on which the Italian and French Free Masons had come to a long-headed, one of the Vatican's semi-official organs, the Corriere d'Italia, had been allowed to suggest that the Papal note covers the return of the Trentino and of Alsace and Lorraine to their respective nationalities. It is, of course, possible that it be read in that sense."

SOCIALISTS LEAD

With Continental Freemasonry unusually strong and politically active, the present movement is considered highly significant. Its activities are carried on quietly, but none the less efficiently. Up to date the British Masons hold aloof, holding to the precedent of the last two centuries, though just before the outbreak of the war they entertained the highest German Masonic officers, and the flags of the two countries were entwined at meeting places.

Henceforth there is expected to be close rivalry between the Vatican and the Masons for the same objective, but by different methods and courses. The Black and White movements are undoubtedly the Red's outdistanced both already and it is hardly in its stride.

Says J. L. Garvin in the Observer: "Negotiation there will be before peace comes, but negotiations after peace has been won. All this talk about expiating our war aims is German nonsense. The Germans know as well as we do what we and our allies are fighting for, and if they have any doubt about the matter they may read the draft of the statement drawn up by the executive committee of the Labor party, which embodies nearly all the principles for which we are fighting."

"That statement has met with a scornful and abusive reception. It is not only the most extreme of talk about Stockholm would make it acceptable to the German people until their military domination in Europe is overthrown. Our task is hard, but not beyond our power."

PARTY MANIPULATED

Of what he calls "The Great Peace Push," Garvin says: "Like religion the Socialist party is being manipulated in the interest of what it deems the Stockholm project was originally inspired from Berlin and spread to Petrograd when the revolution, in its first incipient months, reopened communication with the enemy's docile agents. The contagion has since spread so subtly that the origin is forgotten, and many people have caught it without knowing how or even quite what is the matter with them. Let public opinion keep a plain and steady grasp of these truths without becoming either fumbling or excited."

REDS IN SESSION

PETROGRAD, Aug. 20.—The proceedings of the congress of Bolsheviks in Petrograd, which is now in session in one of the suburbs of Petrograd, are veiled in the greatest secrecy and mystery.

It developed during the sessions of the congress that Nicholas Lenine and other Bolshevik leaders are still in Petrograd. On learning this Minister of Justice Yermoloff demanded the location of the men's hiding places, declaring that if they were not revealed all of the leaders of the congress would have charges of treason made against them.

Mail to "Somewhere in France" Never to Reach Soldiers

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—

Mail for American soldiers in France will not be forwarded unless the addresses show the company and regiment or the name of the separate unit to which the soldier belongs.

Postmaster-General Burleson directed postmasters today to return to senders all mail not addressed in that manner.

The American postal agency in France has been swamped with mail bearing such addresses as "Somewhere in France," "Care the American Expeditionary Forces." It has been found impossible by the postal authorities to undertake the location of men to whom letters are so addressed, as commands are scattered and opportunities to locate the men are difficult.

$1,000,000 IN SHIPS, DOCKS, LOST IN FIRE

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Two steamships and ten smaller vessels laden with sugar and glucose, and the docks where the vessels were tied up at the foot of Congress street, Brooklyn, were heavily damaged by fire early today. The total loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

Reports that the fire was started by incendiary bombs were not substantiated upon investigation. It was believed that two explosions heard about the time the fire was discovered were caused by the bursting of ammunition of light defensive guns. Fire department officials said the cause originated through spontaneous combustion.

The damaged steamships are the Baron Jedburgh and the Christian Baron, owned by Furness, Withy & Co.

Sixty members of the crew of the Baron Jedburgh, around from about the time the fire was discovered, were seen swimming in the water and swimming to shore.

The fire was discovered by Charles Lehman, a watchman. He told the police that the fire started on the dock, which was loaded with general merchandise.

Fire Chief Heffernan began an investigation as to the cause of the explosion immediately. At the height of the fire a small blaze broke out on the 3000-ton Esperanza, a Ward line, which was tied up several blocks away. Only slight damage resulted there.

LIFE THREATENED

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 20.—Governor Ferguson, on whom the impeachment proceedings against him in the House of Representatives, today produced two letters he had received, in which his life was threatened. One, received in May, read:

"If you veto the appropriation bill and attempt to destroy the University of Texas, I will kill you."

Governor Ferguson denied that the loan of $500 to Speaker Fuller of the House was made to influence any of his official acts.

POSES AS SON OF DANIELS; BILKS MANY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A mysterious stranger, passing himself off as a naval officer and others as a son of Secretary Daniels, has obtained considerable money and to date has eluded capture.

The Navy Department today issued a warning against him. According to the announcement, the man's first appearance was July 9, when he introduced himself to officers of the receiving ship at New York and was invited to luncheon. He said he had lost about $47 and some in "borrowing" $30 from the ship's purser, furnishing a regular navy receipt which he signed "Herbert J. Daniels."

CALLS ON EDMONSON
July 25 the same man called on the principal of the Montclair, N. J., Academy, introducing himself as Francis Daniels, a son of the secretary, and said he had been commissioned by Rear Admiral Usher to arrange an encampment on the academy campus for 200 sailors. He also expressed a desire to visit Thomas A. Edison and this was arranged through Dr. M. Reese Hutchison, Mr. Edison's confidential man, who first took the stranger to his own home for luncheon and then to the inventor's laboratory at Orange, N. J. The statement says that Dr. Hutchison was $50 by the stranger's check. When Dr. Hutchison came to Washington he handed to Secretary Daniels a letter from his "son," and the fraud was disclosed.

CHANGE IS LOST

Meanwhile the impostor had again called on Dr. Hutchison's home and was going to stay there a week. He borrowed a camera from a servant and then went to the Edison storage battery plant, where he got $20 from the superintendent on a bad check.

As soon as Secretary Daniels learned of the fraud, the statement continued, "the authorities were notified to be on the lookout for the impostor. On Sunday, July 23, a secret service man, in company with a policeman, saw this young man on Park avenue in the city and approached him with the intention of arresting him. However, the young man wore a different suit of clothes than that he had worn when he was at Dr. Hutchison's and had no glass, so the secret service man, not being on his ground, did not arrest him. Since then he has not been seen."

HOLD WIFE OF MAN WHO SHOT GUARD

Oliver B. Merrick, a Southern Pacific telegrapher, and his wife are held in the city prison today in connection with the murder of Corporal Arthur E. Steadman of the Fifth California Infantry, who was shot and instantly killed in Merrick's rooms at the Lake View Apartments, Ninth and Madison streets, late last night.

According to the report of Inspector William Emigh and Thomas Powers, Merrick did the shooting when he arrived home and found Steadman with his wife.

The couple stated to the police after the shooting that Merrick entered the apartment at 11 o'clock and found Steadman lying on the bed with his coat off. Mrs. Merrick had opened the door and was unable to explain the situation to her husband. Merrick aroused Steadman and demanded an explanation.

Then, according to the similar statements of the couple, Steadman attempted to "twink" Merrick's nose. As he was leaving the apartment he placed his arm about Mrs. Merrick. Her husband obtained a revolver from a closet and fired one shot. It struck the soldier in the heart and he died instantly. Merrick says that he then picked him up and placed him on the bed, where he was found when the police arrived.

Corporal Steadman's attentions to Mrs. Merrick had been resented by her husband on former occasions, the police say. The husband and wife are being held for further investigation as to the details of the tragedy.

Steadman was well known in Alameda. He was the son of Mrs. M. Steadman of 1219 Regent street and the brother of Mrs. J. R. Melson, Ernest of Oakland, who was Miss Myrtle Steadman of Alameda before her marriage to Ernest, who is with an

Southwest Corner 13th and Franklin Sold for $150,000

A conveyance went on record today of the business property at the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Franklin streets by Thomas W. Corder to Lewis Gear. It is the largest transfer of downtown property that has taken place for months. The new purchaser also filed a revocation of a leasing option on the premises which had been given by a former owner. Gear is a local real estate dealer.

The property has a frontage of sixty feet on Thirteenth street and 100 feet on Franklin. It is occupied by a six-story reinforced concrete building with brick facing. According to the conveyance, the price paid was $150,000.

It is understood the deal has been under consideration for months. There had been talk of the Commercial Club leasing quarters in the building, but a decision was reached that the organization remain in its present quarters at Hotel Oakland. It is rumored that a big eastern department store is to establish a branch in Oakland and occupy this building.

Oakland bank. Steadman was the nephew of Edward Poole, who is a leading official of the firm of H. S. Crocker & Co. of San Francisco.

Steadman was a member of Company G for years. He went with the Alameda company to the border during the Mexican trouble and retained his affiliation with the company after the guardsmen returned from the southwest. He went with the company into service when the Alameda organization was ordered into active service for the present war.

Impressive ceremonies accompanied the induction of Joseph S. Kotford and James G. Quinn to the office of Superior Judges this morning. In the presence of nine judges of the Superior Court and the entire membership of the Alameda County Bar, Superior Judge W. H. Waste administered the oath of office and made a speech of welcome to the two junior members of the Alameda county bench.

M. U. Chapman, president of the Bar Association, spoke on the work and responsibilities connected with the position of superior judge and promised for the legal profession of the county the greatest possible cooperation in the handling of legal matters coming before the new judges.

Superior Judges E. K. Estep of Shasta county, William Conley of Contra Costa county, and J. J. Trabucco of Alameda county, and W. H. Waste, T. W. Harris, E. J. Brown, W. H. Donahue, W. S. Wells and F. B. Ogden of Alameda county sat en banc in Department Four while the official ceremonies were in progress.

APPOINTEES NAMED. Judge Ogden announced at the conclusion of the program that the appointment of Leonard D. Compton as adult probation officer; Robert Tyson, assistant probation officer, and Miss Elia Hymon as deputy probation officer had been confirmed. This matter has been pending for several weeks, the recommendations having been made by the adult probation board some time ago.

Judges Wells, Harris and Donahue postponed their vacations several days in order to be present at the installation of the new judges this morning, and their seats on the bench will be filled during their absences by Judges Estep, Conley and Trabucco, respectively.

PULCIFIER CHOSEN. Harry W. Pulcifer was unanimously chosen to replace Judge Quinn as justice by the board of supervisors, following the reading of a resolution to that effect this morning. No other name for the position was mentioned officially.

The new justice was born in Maine forty-eight years ago and came to Alameda county when he was seven years old. He was educated in the public schools here and read law in the office of former Mayor William R. Davis for a number of years. He has practiced law in Alameda for twenty years. In 1909 he served one term in the State Legislature and was chairman of the committee which framed the standard insurance laws passed during his term.

Judge Pulcifer is an ardent yacht enthusiast and is commodore of the Oakland Yacht Club.

REYNOLDS REPORTER. Judge Quinn announced the appointment of Ross Reynolds of Berkeley as court reporter in department four, which he has been assigned. Reynolds is recognized as one of the fastest and most efficient shorthand men in the State.

The calendars for the two new permanent departments have already been fixed by lot from the cases standing in the six old departments.

Judge Quinn said in part: "It is with a feeling of mingled emotions that I find myself here, a principal in this august and imposing ceremony. To me it is a supreme pleasure to have been elevated to a position of trust and honor upon the superior court bench of Alameda county. It is a source of great gratification to have gained the confidence of the governor of this great State of California, and to have been one of those selected for this honorable office."

"Judges will be appointed and pass away, and so will I. One generation rapidly follows another. Changes will come, a change in thought, a change in manner and a change in practice and procedure, but after all is said the great principles of law, the eternal truths upon which we must rest for the protection of human rights and the preservation of the peace, are as unchangeable as the eternal twinkling of the stars. But whoever comes and whoever goes, this great court remains, strong in its traditions, fortified in its memories, fortified in the steadfast support of a profession that surrounds it, anchored in the abiding faith of the great people of this State, this court will go on and still go on, keeping alive for generations we will not see the light that burns with constant radiance upon the high altar of American justice."

KOTFORD PLEDGES. Judge Kotford said in part: "I pledge myself to live up to the best traditions and the character and reputation of the Alameda county bench, and to preside with fairness and impartiality."

"I will give and expect the cooperation of the members of the bar. I promise to each attorney patience, hard work and promptness. Every attorney will get a square deal and especially a square, truthful and honest record of the proceeding of each case that comes before me."

Won't Let Her Fly, She Will Be War Nurse

Matilde Moissant Is to Go to France

Alameda Girl Wins Desire to Serve Country

Fired with patriotic enthusiasm and sympathy for the country of her people, Miss Matilde Moissant, sister of the famous aviator, John Moissant, who met a tragic end in New Orleans in 1910, and herself an aviator, will go to France within a few weeks in the dual capacity of Red Cross nurse and aviation expert. With her will go Stanlie Moissant, her nephew and son of John Moissant, at present in the University of California, who has enlisted as a member of the American flying corps and will see active service on the French battle front.

AS NURSE. Miss Moissant's determination to go as a Red Cross nurse followed the refusal of her services as a member of the Pershing expedition. Government officials, while appreciating her offer, stated that it was not the intention of the United States to take women into the actual dangers of the war zone unless the need became imperative. Undaunted, Miss Moissant gave up her flying and set about perfecting herself for the Red Cross work. Now she will cross the water technically as a nurse to aid the wounded in the field and base hospitals. But it is understood that the United States will accept her technical advice on aviation matters in the flying work in which she is an acknowledged expert.

FROM SALVADOR. Young Stanlie Moissant has returned from Salvador in Central America, where he has been establishing modern dairy machinery with an American concern. He declares that portions of the country are utterly desolated as a result of the terrific earthquakes and volcanic eruptions of a few weeks ago. In the volcanic directly back of San Salvador, the capital of the city, ten craters were opened by the earthquakes. In some places farms and plantations, he says, are covered with a coating of lava of from 10 to 200 feet in depth, while railroads, buried beneath ashes, have given way to mule transportation.

Miss Moissant recently returned from San Salvador. She had intended remaining in the country, but the war fever brought her home to prepare for her Red Cross work. Had she remained, she says, she would probably have lost her life as the quarters which she occupied in the city are now buried beneath many feet of lava and ash. The aviator is at present visiting with Judge and Mrs. Elmer E. Johnson, 300 Chestnut street, Alameda.

Didier Masson Wins Honors as Aviator

Also aviator and social favorite, has won signal distinction, according to war advice just received telegraphically from France, in which he is mentioned as one of the famous Lafayette flying squadron which, Saturday, took part in the great air battle with enemy planes during which 25,000 pounds of high-explosives were dropped by the attacking forces.

Most of this enormous amount of explosives struck German military establishments, railroad stations and engine houses. Of the great number of machines which participated, that in command of Corporal Harold Willis of Boston has not yet returned from the raid. Other Americans who were companions of Masson in the raid were Lieutenant Raoul Laubery of Wallingford, Conn.; Dudley Hill of Peekskill, N. Y.; and W. A. Courtney Campbell Jr. of Kenilworth, Ill.

Masson was prominent in Burlingame social functions and won quite a considerable distinction as an aviator in the country before taking of the war work. He holds the rank of Adjutant in the Lafayette squadron and is said to be one of the most daring in the business.

FIND MAN'S BODY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Believed to have been murdered while he slept, the nude body of a white man was found early today in the outskirts of the city. The skull crushed and more than thirty knife wounds over the heart. After the murder the clothes had been removed and the body wrapped in an old automobile covering. Indications point to the view that the victim had recently been released and the police incline to the theory he was murdered to satisfy an old grudge, probably that of "squealing" on an associate.

DESTROYER FLEET TO BE BUILT HERE

Mare Island Navy Yard, the Union Iron Works on this side of the bay, and possibly other local yards, will receive consideration from the United States Government in the speeding up of construction of a fleet of submarine destroyers, which America is planning to combat the U-boat evil, according to plans made public today at a conference between Secretary Daniels and twenty-five shipbuilders at Washington, D. C.

The program as outlined calls for the wholesale building of the deadly little destroyers on a scale that will give this country the largest "mosquito fleet" in the world. Naval fighters have convinced Secretary Daniels that the submarine is in deadly terror of the destroyer, and it is intended to double the present number under construction.

The conference at which the revised program was approved was attended by representatives of shipbuilding concerns at Fore River, Charlestown, New York, San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and other points. Representatives of the Mare Island and Norfolk navy yards were also in attendance. The scope of submarine activities was thoroughly discussed, Daniels insisting on a full expression of opinion from both navy and shipbuilding men.

TRAINING SCHOOLS

Besides urging the shipbuilders to increase their facilities for turning out destroyers, Secretary Daniels instructed the navy yard men to equip their plants for building the vessels. The shipbuilders asked for aid in speeding up supplies of engines, castings and forgings, assuring slow delivery held up their work. They can prepare the hulls as rapidly as the navy needs the vessels, they said, and demanded some means be found to make the manufacturers deliver internal machinery.

Training schools for mechanics were suggested as a means to cope with labor troubles. Gasoline engines for the destroyers were discussed, but no decision was announced on the question.

HIT WITH BOTTLE

Ed Lawrence, 35, of Hayward, was arrested by Sheriff Frank Barnett and Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares and is being held pending the outcome of injuries said to have been inflicted on Valencia Silvia during a fight in the Occidental Hotel at Hayward Saturday night. Silvia is in the county infirmary with a possible fracture of the skull which, according to witnesses, is the result of a blow on the head with a bottle wielded by Lawrence.

TEN DEAD, 23 ARE HURT IN AUTO WRECKS

Mr. and Mrs. James Welch of Alameda Among Sunday Victims

Ten dead and twenty-three injured in the record of Central and Northern California's automobile tragedies during Sunday. Of the killed, two are from Alameda. Mr. and Mrs. James F. Welch, 306 Haight street, that city, died instantly when a fast train struck their machine on a railroad crossing near Dixon. Williams station, near Colusa, became the background of another tragedy yesterday afternoon when Nicholas Spess, a rancher, his wife, their three children and a visiting girl of 13 years met death as the automobile in which they were riding was struck by the Shasta Limited.

Welch and his wife were on their way to Sacramento when the accident occurred. Both were hurled a considerable distance at the moment of impact, dying instantly, according to statements made by trainmen and witnesses who rushed to the aid. The bodies were bruised and bones were broken in each case. An inquest was held by a Dixon coroner. According to A. Henning and wife of Sacramento, witnesses to the fatal crash, Welch stopped his car at the crossing to allow the train to proceed, but started across the track a moment later, evidently believing that he could pass in safety.

LIVED IN ALAMEDA.

Although residing in Alameda, according to information from Dixon, Welch is a real estate operator at Decoto. He was 61 years old and his wife, Mrs. Florence Welch, 61. They were on a camping trip at the time of the accident. Benjamin A. Welch and James W. Welch, of Alameda, sons of the fatal couple, are making funeral arrangements today. A daughter, Mrs. Andrew Coggins, of Sacramento, also survives.

Six motorists were close to death late yesterday afternoon when the automobile driven by O. B. Barth, 5244 Leavitt avenue, backed through a wall at La Loma and Le Conte avenues, in the Berkeley hills, and down a steep gully into Wildcat canyon. Although the machine bumped and crashed a distance of 75 feet, Barth, his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Anderson of San Lorenzo, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Henderson of Mt. Eden, and O. B. Barth, 13 years, suffered no more than from the shock and minor bruises. Mrs. Barth was the most seriously hurt and obtained treatment for bruises at Roosevelt hospital, Berkeley.

According to the occupants, the engine refused to work on the steep grade, the brakes refused to hold and the machine plunged backward over the steep hillside.

San Francisco and San Mateo counties had their share of accidents yesterday, although no fatalities were reported. Three persons were hurt, one badly, when two automobiles collided on the State highway near Baden, Sunday night.

The little son of Frank Amarel, Salinas automobile dealer, was drowned and seven other persons narrowly escaped death shortly after midnight when Amarel's car went off the road and into a slough near Castroville. Two other automobiles stopped to offer assistance. The tall light of one went out and a third car crashed into it, almost pushing it into the slough, also.
